Jane's Journey

Jane was born with a rare genetic disorder called arthrogyriposis multiplex congenita (AMC). AMC is a condition that affects the joints and muscles, causing them to be stiff and inflexible. In Jane's case, AMC affected her right arm and leg.

Growing up with AMC was not easy. Jane had to use a wheelchair to get around, and she had to wear braces on her arm and leg. She was often teased and bullied by other children. But Jane never let her disability define her. She was determined to live a full and happy life.

Jane went on to graduate from high school and college. She then started her own business, which provides support to other people with disabilities. She also became a motivational speaker, sharing her story with others to inspire them to overcome their own challenges.
