Umberto Saba, the Italian master of lyrical poetry, invites you on an evocative journey into the depths of human emotion and the beauty of everyday life in his collection of 100 poems.

Born in Trieste in 1883, Saba's poetry is characterized by its introspective nature, its exploration of personal experiences, and its celebration of the ordinary. Through his evocative language and poignant imagery, he reveals the complexities of the heart, capturing the bittersweet moments of love, loss, and the search for meaning.

Key Themes in Saba's Poetry

1. Love and Loss: Saba's poetry explores the profound emotions of love, from its joys and ecstasies to its heartaches and disappointments.
2. Introspection and Self-Reflection: He delves into the inner workings of the mind, examining his own thoughts, feelings, and motivations.
3. The Beauty of the Ordinary: Saba finds inspiration in the mundane aspects of life, revealing the hidden poetry in everyday objects and experiences.
4. The Search for Meaning: His poems grapple with existential questions, seeking to understand the nature of existence and the meaning of human experience.

A Glimpse into 100 Poems

The collection of 100 Poems provides a comprehensive overview of Saba's poetic journey. Here are a few excerpts to whet your appetite:

To My Wife

"I love you. You are the one/who makes me pay for the little/ill I do, among those I love,/and makes me feel the little/good that I do."

The Goal

"I have climbed to the top of the hill/I have seen the sea—/To see the sea was my life's goal."

The Street

"I love the street, its shadows and its lights/its houses that look like they are falling down/its shops, its stalls, its passing faces."
