Rumi is a kind and gentle bear, but he is also very different from the other bears in his forest. He is smaller and weaker than the other bears, and he has a strange fascination with humans. The other bears make fun of Rumi and call him names, but Rumi doesn't let their words get to him. He knows that he is different, but he also knows that he is special.

One day, Rumi meets Bixby, a wise old bear who lives deep in the forest. Bixby is different from the other bears, too. He is calm and patient, and he has a deep understanding of the world. Bixby takes Rumi under his wing and teaches him about the importance of love and acceptance. He teaches Rumi that it is okay to be different, and that he should be proud of who he is.

With Bixby's help, Rumi learns to embrace his differences and love himself for who he is. He also learns the importance of compassion and kindness. Rumi and Bixby become best friends, and they spend their days exploring the forest and helping others.
